NEOSHO A SUCCESS IN ARKANSAS TOWN

MONTHLY SALES HAVE BECOME IMMENSELY POPULAR IN YEAR'S TRIAL.

A bulletin issued by the Central of Georgia Railway, for the dissemination of facts regarding the Neosho Plan, contains the following regarding the working of the plan in the town of Camden, Ark.:

From far off Arkansas, that state with such wonderful possibilities, came C. A. Doak, secretary, Chamber of Commerce at Camden, Arkansas, who talked in plain English of the possibilities of co-operative advertising in the cotton country.

Camden, the county seat of Ouachita county, Arkansas, is just an ordinary small city of 5,000 population. It is located in the cotton raising section of Arkansas and while all the grains, fruits and vegetables that are grown in this latitude can be grown here, cotton predominates and has been until the past year the principal money crop.

In starting my work with the organization at Camden I had been warned by many of my friends living in other parts of the state that I would never be able to put any new life in Camden as it was an old town that had not progressed any during the past ten years.

I found that the merchants were suspicious of each other and that the farmers of the community were suspicious of the Camden merchants. I also found that many farmers living near Camden were not only trading at other adjoining towns, but that they were spending thousands of dollars with the mail order houses of Chicago and other large cities. Even citizens living in Camden were trading in other nearby towns and also patronizing the mail order houses.

About this time my attention was called to an article published in the Country Gentleman, entitled, "The Golden Rule as the keynote of the Neosho Plan" and it seemed to me that this plan would meet our conditions. The more I studied over the matter the more I was convinced that we needed the Golden Rule plan so that I finally secured the consent of our organization to invite Mr. Lowe to Camden and have him to present his plan.

Mr. Lowe visited our city during the month of December and after explaining the Neosho Plan at a banquet and mass meeting of our organization and upon the following day thirty-eight of our merchants signed up and we organized the Camden Advertising Club to conduct these monthly sales.

We held our monthly sale upon the third Monday in January, 1921, and have followed with a monthly sale day upon the third Monday of each following month.

As first stated Camden is located in the hard-hit cotton-raising country and we know that this plan could not have been started at a more adverse time.

However, each and every merchant that has placed his whole heart in this plan and is giving actual bargains upon these sales days is reaping big returns and are becoming more enthused each sales day over this plan.

Upon the other hand we find some merchants have not seen the spirit of the plan and simply advertise some specials just to fill up advertising space. They are not receiving any benefits from the plan.

However, there has already been a great difference manifested in the feelings of the merchants toward each other; a more friendly spirit of co-operation exists than ever before.

We also conscientiously believe that had it not been for the efforts of the Camden Advertising Club in fostering the Neosho Plan and in starting these monthly sales days at Camden and in expanding our trade territory to a twenty-five mile radius of Camden that several of our merchants would have been forced to go out of business before this time.

Our experience so far has been that the grocery man is the hardest business line to convert to the Neosho Plan. One personal observation has been that customers buying in adjoining towns to Camden and other patronizing the mail order houses are buying mostly groceries.

Each and every other business line represented in our monthly bargain sheet is giving real bargains and they are bringing in the customers but the grocery man continues to hold his

WORLD'S METHODIST CONFERENCE ADOPTS RESOLUTION FOR ABOLISHMENT OF WAR.

London, Sept. 12.—The World's Methodist Conference this afternoon adopted a strongly worded resolution calling for international disarmament and the complete abolishment of war. This action was taken after a spirited controversy over the question as to whether mention should be made in the resolution of the league of nations.

The conference finally decided to adopt a resolution which did not mention the league and to ask the business committee to frame a separate resolution dealing with the league, which will be voted on later.

The resolution adopted says the conference "speaking in the name and in behalf of 32,000,000 fellow Christians, declares without hesitation or reservation its belief in the absolute necessity for international abolition of war."

"Sitting in the shadow of the most terrible conflict in human history, with its unparalleled wastage in human life and property and with its inevitable aftermath of human sorrow and its burden of woes, we declare with an unmitigated curse to humanity," the resolution continues.

"On behalf of millions of youths who suffered and died; on behalf of millions of homes broken by bereavement; in the name of the almighty God, we insist that we must not allow our statesmen and leaders find a way for the settlement of international differences by other than arbitration of arms. We repudiate the doctrine that war is a necessary, just, or right. Differences must be settled by reason, not by human slaughter."

The resolution says that if there are those who refuse to listen to reason, "then let a way be found by which immediate peace may be the collective disapproval of the world."

The conference, the resolution adds, advocates no plan, but it calls upon the authorities to "give themselves without reserve to the Christian task of finding a substitute for war."

It condemns armaments and says the conference, especially appeals to the meeting that is now to be held in Washington to discuss limitation of armaments "that no word be left unsaid nor deed undone that shall help to relieve the world of its burden of armaments and the threat of war."

Immediately after the reading of the resolution Judge Charles A. Ames of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who was an assistant attorney-general during the administration of President Wilson, protested that the resolution specifically endorses the approaching conference on limitations of armaments but not the league of nations.

"As citizens of the United States and a lover of peace and of my country," said Judge Ames, "I want to say that our government is setting up a competitive body to the league of nations. The disarmament conference may do more harm than good. It is my profound conviction that the people of the United States favor our entry into the league of nations."

METHODISTS CALL FOR DISARMAMENT

Occasionally some merchants will try to slip something over in order to take an undue advantage on the sales days, but our censor committee watches everything closely and holds each and every merchant's feet to the fire.

Remember, that the more of these conditions that you may have, the more you need the Neosho Plan.

The plan is proving a great success in Camden under the very worst of financial conditions and there is no doubt whatever but what it will greatly improve under more favorable and normal conditions. This plan has months in actual operation for five months in Camden, and our organization is unable to furnish any definite figures showing the actual increase in business, but every merchant that has given the plan a fair and impartial trial will vouch that his sales have increased at least 100 per cent on Monday sales days to that of an ordinary Monday.

On the other hand the Neosho Plan has already been worth thousands of dollars to Camden in creating a better feeling amongst the merchants and it has made Camden and the surrounding country a better place in which to live.

WOULD MAKE ROOM FOR VIOLENTLY INSANE

HARDWICK RECOMMENDS THAT THOSE MILDLY CRAZY SHOULD BE DISCHARGED.

Millersville, Ga., Sept. 13.—For the purpose of holding a conference with Superintendent L. M. Jones, of the Georgia State Sanitarium, Governor Hardwick arrived in Millersville this afternoon. Shortly after his arrival in Millersville the Governor went directly to the sanitarium.

The middle of August the board of trustees of the sanitarium issued an order to the officials of the institution not to accept any additional patients. This state of affairs prompted the visit of the governor.

At present the number of patients cared for at the sanitarium number more than 4,100, exceeding the normal capacity of the institution by more than six hundred. In addition to the number of patients actually confined in the sanitarium, there are more than six hundred out on furlough, and it develops that more than two hundred rooms in the female ward of the institution are occupied by two or more patients to the room.

Since the order was issued by the trustees of the sanitarium in August, the institution nearly one hundred applications have been turned down and thrown back on the counties from which the applications have come. This is the deplorable situation that is causing so much alarm over the state.

In his heart to heart talk with the head of the sanitarium Tuesday, Governor Hardwick advised that as many less violent patients as possible be released and sent to the homes from whence they came in order to make room for those who might be considered dangerous. It was also urged by the governor that no except violent patients be admitted to the institution to take the places of any who might be turned loose and sent back to the counties they came from originally. Including the more than 4,100 patients at present confined in the sanitarium, those out on furlough there are more than 4,800 persons subjects of the asylum. Those who are out on furlough are subject to be returned at any time without another commitment.

This state of affairs is the outcome of the Georgia legislature's neglect to provide an appropriation for the erection of one or more buildings to provide additional room at the state sanitarium and the cutting of the maintenance fund more than ninety thousand dollars.

Unless an appropriation of the legislature is called nothing can be done to remedy this situation before the convening of the general assembly next year.

HIGH CLASS COMMUNITY JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA

The Junior Community Chautauqua starts off with the "Pied Piper's P-Raid" on the evening of the opening day—a great parade for every boy and girl in town, from eight to eighty. Begins promptly at seven o'clock and ends promptly at the Chautauqua tent in time for the first program of the season. From the head of the procession, where the lively Pied Piper will sit, down to the last little girl or boy at the "tail end," there will be a parade of gaily dressed paraders. A group of merry-faced oriental girls, a squad of uniformed Boy Scouts, a P-Nutt Band, a torch-light brigade of dark-faced musicians, a raft filled with curious looking buccaners, a company of "Camp Fire Girls" guarded by Indians, and many other costumed figures of interest. All the noise in town is to be used in the "P-Raid." After marching through the principal streets, the procession will halt at the tent and what a yell will go up from the Junior Chautauqua. The Pied Piper will divide his pie among the children and those who get the "lucky pieces" will win prize tickets.

Early on the second morning in search for lost treasure ships that are scattered around town will go the eager Juniors. When all the hidden lost ships are brought safely into harbor (the big tent where the play-leader waits) the finders of the three "Treasure Ships" will be given a reward. You'll never guess what it is.

Then the junior citizens will elect their own mayor, as well as other high officers. Great care will be taken to make the very best selections possible. Watch the junior citizens work throughout the week and court their splendid activities if you can. Each citizen will wear a badge so that you will know him to be a "true blue Junior." Even starting at nine o'clock the mayor will be in charge of a junior community meeting inside the community tent. Grown-ups are cordially invited to visit these meetings.

More thrilling and lively than ever are the games and stunts planned for the Juniors. Every morning from ten to eleven-thirty, games and folk dances for the girls; and stunts and games for the boys.

Then the new big pageant, in which every Junior Chautauquan has some part to play. On the last afternoon this pageant will be presented. The Jollity, will be presented.

Four afternoon story-hours conducted by the play-leader. Stories of magic, mirth and mystery, with some true, up-to-the-hour stories too. A new costume worn by the story-teller each afternoon. No boy or girl should miss these story hours.

Junior tickets cost one dollar and a quarter and they may be used morning, afternoon and evening by children from six to fourteen, inclusive. A whole week of supervised recreation or the boys and girls in a Community Chautauqua town. Days filled with constructive play-times.

WOULD CUT COTTON OUT FOR ONE YEAR

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—The complete abolition of cotton planting throughout the entire cotton belt, through legislative action, for one year, was advocated as the only sure method of ridding the south of the boll weevil, by Paul M. Potts, a planter of Natchitoches, La., in an address before the Louisiana and Mississippi divisions of the American Cotton Association meeting here today in conjunction with the interstate farm congress.

"I have tried every method suggested to get rid of the ravages of the weevil," said Mr. Potts, "but they have failed. There is only one sure method. That is for the cotton belt, through legislative action, to prevent the planting of any cotton for one year. The weevil cannot propagate its species unless it has cotton plants to lay its eggs in. If there was no cotton for one year the weevil would be wiped out."

W. B. Thompson, a leading cotton factor, of New Orleans, president of the Louisiana division of the American Cotton Association, argued upon the cotton men present the necessity for controlling acreage and developing a chain of bonded warehouses throughout the cotton belt. "The country will be on the high road to prosperity if the farmers continue to plant only one third of their acreage in cotton and the rest in food and feedstuffs," said Mr. Thompson.

BULLOCH COUNTY FAIR FIVE WEEKS DISTANT

HANDSOME PREMIUMS OFFERED IN LIVE STOCK, AGRICULTURAL AND ART DISPLAYS.

The opening date for the Bulloch county fair is Tuesday, October 18th—barely five weeks distant.

Every preparation has been made to make the fair the coming year the best in its history. Enlarged premiums are being offered for exhibits in the live stock, agricultural and art department, and there is not a shadow of doubt that the exhibits will do credit to the county.

A splendid racing card has been announced and purse worth while are being offered. F. C. Parker, who is chairman of the racing committee, is already receiving entries from abroad, and the outlook is good for a larger number of fast horses than have ever been seen at a Bulloch county fair.

Premium lists are now about ready to leave the printers' hands and will be distributed during the next ten days. In the meantime, every Bulloch county farmer should feel a pride in selecting something worth while to place on exhibition from his farm. A number of prizes are offered for school exhibits, and committees have been appointed in every section of the county to take charge of the gathering of exhibits. Those who are interested—and every citizen of the county should be interested—are invited to communicate with B. R. Ollitt, secretary, for full information.

VETERANS' REUNION TO GO TO CHATTANOOGA

TENNESSEE CITY PREPARES TO TAKE CARE OF U. C. V. AND SONS OCTOBER 25-27.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 12.—For the third time in the history of that organization the United States Confederate Veterans' Association has been invited to hold its annual reunion in Chattanooga and the invitation has been accepted. The invitation is also extended, of course, to the Sons of Confederate Veterans and allied organizations that hold their reunions simultaneously with the U. C. V. The date of the reunion has been fixed for October 25-27 inclusive. Committees are already busy making arrangements to entertain the reunion, and all who attend are assured of a hearty welcome in advance of the event to the homes and hospitality of Chattanooga.

The reunion organization is headed by an executive committee of which W. N. Hudnburg, an active business man, is chairman. There is also a general advisory committee, headed by Hon. Alex. W. Chambliss, mayor of Chattanooga. These committees composed of many of the best men of the reunion eight years ago and who are therefore known to the leaders of the ex-Confederate organization throughout the South. John E. Lovell is chairman of the finance committee.

It should be understood that this invitation was issued at the eleventh hour, after it appeared that the ex-Confederate would have no reunion this year because of the absence of an invitation. No southern city seemed to be willing to invite the ex-Confederates, due doubtless to local conditions.

With but a few weeks in which to make arrangements for entertaining the reunion, the ex-Confederates themselves cannot expect the elaborate entertainment they received here in 1912, but they are assured that they will be given the best that Chattanooga can provide in the very short time intervening between now and the October date.

Merely as a matter of information to the ex-Confederates and their friends, adequate arrangements will be provided for their social features of the reunion and the usual social features of the reunion will be carried out. There will be no free mess hall, however, for the reason that the time limit precludes such arrangement. Neither will the veterans be housed in the homes of Chattanooga, will be entertained in private families as well as in the city's modern modern hotels, boarding houses and rooming houses.

STIFF COTTON MARKET IMPROVES LOCAL BUSINESS

The prices paid for cotton during the past week, which have ranged persistently in the neighborhood of 20 cents per pound, have gone a long way toward restoring normalcy to business conditions locally.

Merchants and business men generally report marked improvement in collections and cash sales. The influx of cotton at the local warehouses has amounted to almost congestion part of the time, and the fluctuations in price have seemed to have the effect to stimulate selling. The drop to 17 cents a week ago was quickly regained, and the price shot back up to 19 cents, but the price is still crawling from there to 20. This price, though one cent below the highest price attained last week, is readily accepted by those who recognize their obligation to pay their debts, and many thousands of dollars have gone to settle notes and accounts during the past week.

SIMMONS IN NEW YORK ON PURCHASING TRIP

R. Simmons left Tuesday for New York, to be gone for several days, for the purchase of new stock for his approaching fall trade.

Before leaving, Mr. Simmons announced his intention of paying particular attention to the selection of his line of ladies' goods, including millinery and ready-to-wear. These lines, he states, he intends to hold to the very highest standard of excellence. He has secured the services of an experienced milliner, and ladies' caterer from Atlanta, who has already arrived and who will be in charge of his ladies' department.

In his gents' clothing and shoe departments, also, Mr. Simmons will maintain the standard of excellence for which his firm has been noted in the past.

Mr. Simmons hopes to have his new goods in stock by the first of the approaching month.

MANY FROM BULLOCH TO ATTEND REUNION

Interest attaches to the announcement that the general reunion of Confederate veterans will be held this year in Chattanooga, embracing the 25th to 27th of next month.

As in the past, it is certain that many persons from Bulloch county will attend. A rate of 1 cent per mile each way has been granted by the railroads. Judge E. D. Holland, adjutant of the local camp of Confederate veterans, desires that all veterans who intend to go should notify him of their intention so that adequate plans may be made for their accommodation in Chattanooga.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE MUCH IMPROVED

Washington, Sept. 12.—Conditions throughout the south now reflect a greatly improved tone, officials said tonight, both the treasury and the federal reserve board restoring a lessening demand for credit from that section.

The view was expressed by high treasury officials that the purchasing power of the south already was sustained through the winter as a result of the improvement in the cotton market.

Better business in the south, it was asserted, could be expected to have its effect upon the country generally and by a reaction in credit needs of the cotton states make available more money for other sections. In coal and steel, however, according to the treasury, little improvement is in sight at present. Orders are few in these industries, officials said, with little prospect of betterment.

"PROS AND CONS" OF BOBBED HAIR QUESTION

BUSINESS MEN TAKE STAND AGAINST NEW STYLES—WOMEN THEATER RETALIATION.

New York, Sept. 3.—Some people have begun taking bobbed hair seriously. A few of them, apparently believing that the absence of long tresses outside the head leaves the impression that something is lacking within, have informed the world that bobbed hair and business efficiency don't mix. Several railroad offices have taken the same position as the Chicago department stores which notified its feminine employees that they either let their hair grow out or being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said bank, as shown by the books of file in said bank.

And here are some of the things they wrote the editors: "Bobbed hair, girls may not be vapid and silly. We don't say they are but you can't get around the fact that they look that way. And naturally a girl that appears frivolous is not wanted in any business, even though she may actually be serious minded."

"Girls have a right to wear their hair anyway they see fit, so long as it appears neat and respectable, and only a vapid and silly person would think for one minute that because the hirsute adornments were short and snappy, the owner was frivolous."

"Bobbed hair is just one of those foolish fads that that crazy crew down in Greenwich Village started. The women around the country really ought to know better how young girls are—they like to take up new things, and you can't tell them anything. Maybe the offices that are putting a ban on bobbed hair will teach them a lesson—goodness only knows they need it."

"Bobbed hair is not a foolish fad. It is the most sensible way for business girls to wear it. They don't keep looking at the mirror all the time, and it gives them a chance to type a letter all the way from the 'replying to your favor' to the 'we have to remain' without having to fidget around trying to keep strands from tickling the ears or blowing in the eyes."

"I don't know what this younger generation is thinking about. No girl with any claim to being serious minded would consider for a minute that bobbed hair improved her appearance. I always say that if the Lord had intended for women to have short hair He would have made them that way. It's just one of those fads about it—the girls will soon get over it and come back to the 'serenities'."

"Certainly the girls of our day dress more sensibly than their mothers did, and bobbed hair is one of the most sensible parts of their appearance. It is cooler and more comfortable, and you don't have to stop work every few minutes to do it up. It requires only a few minutes attention each day and always looks fresh and neat, and this gives a girl more time for serious reading and things. Reformers that are always criticizing everything new get on my nerves. If some of these men had ever been cursed with long hair, they would think twice before trying to tell the young girls how to dress."

And so it goes. In New York the anti-bobs have confined their campaign against abbreviated coiffures to writing their opinions and talking about them. A few personal directors of large concerns have said, with the precaution of requesting their names not being used, that they were seriously considering regulations against bobbed-haired types. But that is as far as the matter has gone.

Some of the masculine employers gave up hope of regulating it when they learned that the girls could easily fool them. With a few rubber bands, a couple of switches, some hair pins and a comb the girls can camouflage their bobbed hair during business hours so that it looks prudently Victorian.

MANY LADIES HAD PART IN CARING FOR VISITORS

In writing last week of the very generous entertainment accorded the visiting Masons in Statesboro during the district convention, reference was made to the fact that the ladies of the Eastern Star, which is an auxiliary of the Masonic order, contributed largely to the pleasure of the occasion through their labors. Attention has been called to the fact that practically all of the lady members of every Masonic household, whether Eastern Star members or not, and many who were not of the Masonic households, joined in the splendid service rendered. There was no thought of omitting credit to all the ladies, and the members of Ogeechee Lodge were highly appreciative of the co-operation given by the ladies of the city, and by a large number of their male friends who were not members but well wishers of the Masonic order.

FORMER BULLOCH MAN SUICIDE AT BRUNSWICK

Brunswick, Ga., Sept. 12.—Leaving only the address of his brother in Statesboro on his dresser, S. Lewis Miller placed a revolver to his head and blew out his brains in his room here to-day.

On a small piece of paper he wrote "R. L. Miller, Statesboro, Ga., please notify."

That was all that the man left and his rash act remains unexplained. He was in his room and the report of a revolver was heard.

Miller, who was 56 years old, was formerly connected with the local customs house and later with Strachan Shipping Company. He left several months ago and returned only a few days ago. He was not in financial troubles and no reason can be assigned for his act. He formerly lived in Savannah, where he was in business. He was a brother of Officer Miller, who was shot in the Central depot in Savannah by another police officer several weeks ago.

STATE MARKET BUREAU TO HANDLE COTTON SEED

On September 15th the State Bureau of Markets will open a division for handling cotton seed. As a supervisor of this division the department has secured the services of a man with a lifetime training in every phase of the cotton seed and oil mill business. This service will be entirely free, and will be extended to every shipper or producer, or group of producers, who will ship as much as a carload of seed.

It is well recognized in the cotton seed industry, that the price paid for seed is controlled by its oil content. It is established by experience that cotton seed vary in oil content from 37 to 47 gallons per ton. The majority of seed in Georgia are bought by the mills on a mean average of from 40 to 41 gallons of oil per ton. Thus it will be seen usually the seller of seed containing 47 gallons of oil would not receive any more for his seed than the seller of seed containing 37 gallons, although on the present market price of oil the seed of 47 gallons content would worth $6.00 per ton more than those of 37 gallons.

The oil mill industry is one of the most important in the south, and has drawn into its service some of the best and most brilliant minds of the south. It is the intention of this Bureau to seek and obtain the co-operation of the oil millers, as a necessary adjunct to the success of our new project.

It proposes to show to the millers, that through this free service offered, seed can be located at a moments notice, with the oil content already established. The department has made arrangement with the state chemist, whereby samples properly drawn from carload lots of cotton seed will be analyzed, and the oil content developed. Only such seed as have been sampled in strict compliance with the instructions of the State Bureau of Markets will be analyzed. Thus the millers know exactly what they are buying and will be enabled to pay for the seed on a basis of its value.

The department proposes to have listed with it the name of every producer or group of producers who will offer seed in car lots. Also the names of every buyer of seed in wagon lots who will sell in car lots.

The basic principle on which this bureau has worked is to bring together the buyer and seller of Georgia products.

625,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN NEW YORK

BIGGEST THING OF KIND EVER SEEN IN THAT STATE, DE-CLAIRES BIG WHOLESALE.

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tanlac is sold in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Co.—adv.

gia products. In order to establish and maintain this condition it is necessary that both the buyer and the seller have an understanding each of the problems of the other.

The bureau believes this new cotton seed division will have a deep influence for closer relations, and a better spirit between the producer and the mills, as the farmer will know what he is selling and the mill will know what it is buying.

County agents and all farm organizations are especially requested to give their co-operation and let all interested know of this service which is rendered to all completely free.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Having again entered the mercantile business in Statesboro, I take this method of announcing to my friends and former patrons that I am ready to serve them and will appreciate a continuance of their patronage which they have so generously given me in past years.

In order that I may bring my business into shape, I have deemed it best to adopt a strictly cash system from now until January 1st, after which time I hope to be in position to extend to my patrons the usual courtesies of the past.

In the meantime I am selling goods for the cash at wonderfully attractive prices, and invite a share of the public patronage, guaranteeing to treat every patron with the utmost fairness and an earnest endeavor to satisfy every reasonable demand.

I expect to leave in a few days for the northern markets to lay in new merchandise for the coming year, and hope to be able to bring to my patrons a line of merchandise which will prove worthy of their patronage.

Bear in mind also that I am buying cotton and paying the highest possible prices. Statesboro is a great cotton market, equal to the best. Other buyers besides myself stand ready at all times to bid on your cotton and treat you fairly in the matter of price. The Statesboro market offers opportunities which cannot be excelled.

Very truly,

R. SIMMONS

You can generally judge the standard of a store by the merchandise it sells, just as you can determine the character of a man by the company he keeps.

What then, is your verdict of a shop like ours that offers merchandise of the quality expressed by so famous a line as Manhattan Shirts? We sell them, as well as every other high type article of Men's wear, such as:

Wilson Brothers furnishings, Cheney Ties, Manhattan Soft Collars, Hart-Schaffner & Marx fine Clothes.

I once heard of a man who was so sure that nothing really interesting or big could ever happen in his town, that when an eclipse of the moon was scheduled, he hitched up his team and drove to a neighboring city to see it.

With the coming of Chautauqua it is no longer necessary to go to the big cities and expend from ten to fifty times the price of a Chautauqua season ticket to see and hear the same identical lectures, concerts and dramatic performances as the Chautauqua brings right to your door.

This year especially when economy in public and private expenditures is so much in order, let the Chautauqua furnish you your much needed recreation at home. Have faith in your home town, just as your fellow-citizens had faith in you when they assumed a good share of the financial responsibility in bringing the Chautauqua to this town.

We have sincerely endeavored to provide clean fun, good music, wholesome entertainment, and worth-while lectures of such variety and merit as to enable you and your family to enjoy a beneficial out-of-door vacation.

We shall not be happy unless we succeed in this.

And when the last strains of music have died away and the big tent has gone, remember that we are still at your call.

Sincerely yours,
LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA COMMITTEE.

WARRANTS FOR FARMERS NOT DIPPING CATTLE

Moultrie, Ga., Sept. 12.—Warrants have been sworn out for the arrest of ten Colquitt county farmers who are alleged to have ignored orders to dip their cattle in compliance with the rule and regulations governing the tick eradication campaign. Those accused are M. Williams, Tom Williams, Gordon Thomas, Joe McLendon, Will Jordan, N. W. Folsom, R. N. Folsom, J. N. Folsom and Will Chatin.

The inspector in charge of the tick eradication appeared before a Moultrie justice of the peace and secured the warrants. It was the largest batch ever sworn out at one time in this county for alleged failure to dip cattle. The inspectors have indicated that charges will be brought against other cattle owners within the next few days. The authorities are determined to finish the tick eradication work in Colquitt county by the end of the current year and have declared that the dipping of all cattle will be enforced.

The ten men against whom charges have been brought nearly all live in the Warrior district and some of them are prominently connected.
